(capo 2)

G        Em        C                    D
You are everything, everything I've ever wanted.

G        Em        C                    D
You are everything, everything I've ever needed.

G        Em        C                    D
You are everything, everything I've ever loved.

G        Em        C                    D
You are a mystery, such a mystery.

-- instrumental break --

G        Em        C                    D
You are a mystery.

Notes:

Sometimes it seems that words are just not up to the task of praising and glorifying and singing in awe of the Beloved... and this song has arisen from that place, a song of few words, longing to say more than words than can say.
